

Content

Preface . . . . .	11
-------------------	----

Florian Steger, Marcin Orzechowski, Giovanni Rubeis and Maximilian Schochow

Introduction . . . . .	13
------------------------	----

I. Ethical Aspects

Giovanni Rubeis

Mental healthcare in migrants from the perspective of public health ethics: clinical factors, cultural diversity, and access barriers . . . . .	31
---	----

Vera Vogel

Healthcare for refugees suffering from psychiatric disorders: an overview of the current care provision in Germany . . . . .	47
--	----

Ivana Tucak

Cultural differences and informed consent . . . . .	65
---	----

Pranab Rudra

Physician-patient relationship models in Bangladesh and Germany	87
---	----

Sylvia Agbih

Understanding vulnerability and deliberations on justice – the case of health care for refugees and asylum seekers in Germany . . . . .	105
---	-----

Ivana Zagorac
The power of empathy in the treatment of vulnerable subjects . . .	126

Katharina Fürholzer
Narration without borders. Migration, narrative medicine, and témoignage in the public work of Médecins Sans Frontières (Doctors Without Borders) . . . . .	140

II. Legal aspects

Pedro A. Villarreal
Differential treatment in the international health regulations: towards a nuanced perspective . . . . .	157

Katarina Weilert
The human right to health in public international law with particular reference to asylum-seekers, refugees, and migrants and its reception in German law . . . . .	172

III. Societal Aspects

Frank Kressing and Maximilian Schochow
Aspects of migration, culture and health care in Germany's past and present . . . . .	197

Tamara Schwertel
Difficulties in the trajectories: An investigation of care structures for refugees suffering from tuberculosis in Germany . . . . .	217

Robert Doričić
The challenges of the migration crisis in Croatia – the Primorje-Gorski Kotar county and the city of Rijeka example . . . . .	235

Prerna Thaker and Ravi Rao
Challenges faced by refugees to access health care in Germany . . . . .	253

Tarek Mahjoub
What it takes to fit in: an opinion piece on the integration of adolescent refugee migrants in Germany . . . . .	272
Iva Rinčić and Amir Muzur
Migrants' health and European culture: strengthening ties for better understanding. The case of Rijeka 2020 European Capital of Culture . . . . .	286
Wielant Machleidt
The importance of strangeness experiences for ego-constitution and society . . . . .	301
Addresses for correspondence . . . . .	315